

The annual Kentville Home Show is the largest home show in the Annapolis Valley and largest show outside metro with over 25 years of shows under our belt.

After a strong 2009, the strong economy and the home renovation tax credit the 2010 season is looking to be just as strong. With the projected lower interest rates for the 2010 fiscal year, housing renovations and housing starts are expected to be strong. This strong economy will benefit any business in the home construction and renovation business.

With the lower interest rates and the stronger economy consumers will be looking to capitalize and make those dream purchases they have always wanted. They may not be building or renovating but looking to add to their existing home, could be a hot tub, back yard renovation or alternative energy solution to improve their heating/cooling costs.

No matter what it is the Kentville Home Show is your venue to advertise to the thousands that visit our show annually and "KICK START" your 2010 season.
